ST. PATRICK'S DAY ICE CREAM.

George W. Cusaden, the enterprising ice cream manufacturer and caterer, is preparing to supply his patrons with genuine St. Patrick's day ice cream on March 17. The ice cream will be emerald green in color and flavored with pure pistachio nuts. Mr. Cusaden invites the patronage of private families and public organizations which contemplate giving entertainments on March 17. One novel design in the way of ice will be a green block of cream with the figures "17" in the center. Not the cheapest but the best, you know.

DIED AT LEXINGTON.

Dennis Shea, a well known resident of Lexington, Ky., died Monday of pneumonia. Mother Superior Sebastian, of the Sisters of Charity, at Delhi Hospital, is one of several sisters of the deceased, all of whom are Sisters of Charity. Mr. Shea was probably the heaviest one-legged man in the world. He was sixty years old and weighed 375 pounds. He lost a leg in an accident fourteen years ago. In recent years he has been a watchman for the Southern Railway. Two weeks ago he fell on the ice and broke several ribs.

PROMOTED.

He has been transferred from the branch in Philadelphia to the headquarters in Chicago. Tom is a hustler and he has the good wishes of his many friends here.

Record of the Most Important of the Recent Events Culled From Exchanges.

On Thursday evening James J. Phelan, one of Cork's leading citizens, was made the recipient of an address and presentation from the members of the Waterford Boat Club. The presentation took place in the Town Hall.

A magnificent Celtic cross, erected to the memory of the late Mrs. Ellen Scannell, Castlemartyr, was recently unveiled in the churchyard at Mogely. The mass in connection with the event was celebrated by the Rev. John Scannell, who afterwards performed the ceremony of blessing and unveiling the monument.

On Thursday the body of a woman named Mrs. Burke was found in the new dock at Galway by some dock laborers. The old woman was in her nightdress, and it is believed that she got out in her sleep and walked into the dock, which is only a short distance from her home. She was the widow of the late A. C. Burke, once a Galway Justice of Peace.

A drowning accident of a peculiar nature occurred in the city of Cork by which a man named John Sheehan lost his life. The body was picked out of the Mill stream at the rear of Arnot's brewery in Pitton street. Sheehan was aged about fifty-three years and lived at 103 Barrack street. He was employed for the past thirty years as a car-man at Messrs. McMullin's flour mills, George's quay.

News of the death in Dublin of W. J. Smith, J. P., of Rossmore, was received in Waterford this week with profound regret. Deceased was twice Mayor of Waterford, and during his period of office an important corporation bill was passed. He took a deep interest in the free bridge project. He was a member of most of the public boards, and Master of the Holy Ghost Hospital, one of the most ancient institutions in the city.

At Tullamore, Peter Ryan was remanded charged with the murder of Peter Murden, his servant, at his farm-house, Cappinkur. The evidence showed the accused gave himself up to the police and confessed the crime. Murden's head was battered in with, it was alleged, a large pair of tongs and a hedge clipper. It has developed that Ryan was laboring under an attack of insanity.

The tenants on the Harnett estate, Knockbrack, near Abbeyfeale, have offered to purchase their holdings at eighteen years on the valuation, but it appears the tenants have refused to offer the same number of years on the rental, the terms demanded. In this respect the tenants are acting in the same manner as those on the Ellis estate, where the questions in dispute between the landlord and tenants ended satisfactorily a short time ago.

Many forecasts and prophecies are being indulged in in connection with the election of Chairman of the Waterford County Council. At the request of the Nationalists, Edmund Nugent, of Ballycarbery, has consented to go forward, and will, it is said, be opposed by Charles Curran, J. P., of Ballinacumuck. Nugent has been connected with the national movement from his boyhood upwards, while his opponent has generally taken what is termed the "safe side." The council will have little hesitation in electing Nugent.

The remains of Sir Charles Gavan Duffy are to be laid in the land for which he strove in the ardor of his early manhood, and towards which his fondest aspirations were directed in after years across thousands of miles of ocean. The Irish patriot will rest in Glasnevin cemetery, Dublin, in ground hallowed by the bones of many illustrious men of the Irish race. The public will be glad to pay a tribute of respect to Gavan Duffy's memory, and the funeral cortege through the metropolis will doubtless be an imposing spectacle.

The United Irish League in the County Waterford is day by day strengthening its position and attracting new recruits to its ranks. Of this we had positive proof on the occasion of the annual meeting of the East Waterford Executive, over whose destinies that worthy Corkonian, John McCarthy, so worthily and so efficiently presides. The Executive's record for the past year is one worthy of emulation; the practical work carried out at the meetings, and the earnestness and determination of its officers is creditable and praiseworthy.

A large and enthusiastic meeting was held at Killeagh in support of the project initiated by the Cork Young Ireland

Society of erecting a monument on the Grand Parade to perpetuate the memories of the men of '98, 1803, '48, and '60. Speeches were made by Rev. Father Skehan, who presided, and Messrs. John J. Crowley, John Ronayne and W. J. O'Sullivan, who attended as a deputation from the Cork Young Ireland Society. A strong local committee was formed and it was decided to make collections at Killeagh and Inch.

The Lord Lieutenant, speaking at the annual dinner of the Royal College of Surgeons, said the prospects for the immediate future of Ireland were, as far as he could judge, very satisfactory and encouraging. Agitation had been largely abandoned, and violent language had been replaced by moderation and reason. They had been able to remove much of the exceptional procedure which was put into force in April and September last, and he had never signed anything more gladly than he did the proclamation of last week. The recent land conference was an enormous step towards the removal of friction and misunderstanding between the parties interested in the land question, and the main springs of that movement were toleration, moderation and co-operation.

HIBERNIANS.

What They Have Been Doing the Past Week—General News Notes.

A second division of the order has been organized at Hartford, Conn., and also a division of the Ladies' Auxiliary at Danbury.

Talent of the highest class will give a concert on St. Patrick's night under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary of Providence.

Duluth Hibernians observed the anniversary of Robert Emmet with appropriate exercises Wednesday night in Catholic Association Hall.

Division 1 of Duluth has pledged the hearty support of the members to give Joseph Devlin a fitting reception when he visits their city next month.

Division 4 expects to initiate a big class next Wednesday evening as the proposers of new members have been notified to bring in person each candidate.

The three divisions of Auburn, N. Y., have decided to unite in a banquet on St. Patrick's day. A committee of arrangements is preparing an excellent programme for the occasion.

A class of thirty candidates were initiated last Sunday at Milwaukee. The special committee made its St. Patrick's day report, recommending that the celebration be held in the Gesau Auditorium.

Division 4 of St. Paul initiated fifty-five new members at Elks' Hall last Tuesday evening. The rapid growth of this giant division is something wonderful. It is now far in the lead over any division in Minnesota.

Thursday night before Lent began Division 4, of Minneapolis, gave one of the most unique, interesting and successful entertainments in its history. The affair consisted of a concert, card party and dance, and took place in the Third Ward Republican Hall.

Division 7 of Syracuse decided at the last meeting to meet weekly until St. Patrick's day, so that the large number of elected candidates may be received into the order by that time. The division also decided to go to holy communion in a body on Sunday, March 8.

The division at Marquette, at a special meeting, appropriated $500 to the convent of the Sisters of St. Joseph, which was destroyed by fire. Catholic societies generally throughout the State will be petitioned to likewise donate to the fund to replace the burned structure.

Hon. Joseph Devlin, M. P., of Belfast, lectured Friday evening at St. Patrick's Auditorium for the benefit of the Hibernians, who are already raising money for the entertainment of the Pennsylvania State convention of the order, which will be held there next August.

The report of State Secretary Mahoney, of the Hibernian Life Insurance fund of Minnesota, for the three months ending January 1, shows a marked improvement in the condition of the fund. During the year 1902, there were thirty-two deaths. The policies on these are all paid in full.

One of the most memorable meetings ever held in Providence was that of Division 19 last Sunday, when a joint exemplification of the new ritual took place and major honors were conferred on over fifty candidates for Divisions 18 and 19. A concert programme was a feature, after which followed refreshments.

Elaborate preparations are being made by the Alexandria division for the annual banquet, which will be held on St. Patrick's night, March 17, in the hall of the Young Men's Sodality Lyceum. The orator of the occasion will be the Rev. Father O'Sullivan, who recently conducted a mission in St. Mary's church in Washington.

The following Board of Trustees of the New York Hibernian Hall Association has been elected: The Rev. Charles McCready, D. D., pastor of Holy Cross church; Major Edward T. McCrystal, Peter Lennon, P. J. McNulty and Dennis J. Hanlon. The proceeds of the coming festival on St. Patrick's day will go toward the fund for the hall, work on the foundation of which has been begun.

Speaking of the Emmet celebration that takes place tomorrow night under the auspices of the Syracuse Hibernians at Wieling Opera House, the Catholic Sun says: "The people of Syracuse have had the opportunity in the past to attend some grand Emmet celebrations in this city, which were second only to those given in New York and Chicago, where the population is about ten times as great

AFTER EASTER.

Irish-American Society Will Again Entertain Its Friends.

Encouraged by the success of its Washington birthday celebration, the Irish-American Society at its meeting Thursday night decided to again entertain its friends after Easter. Secretaries Claire and Walsh submitted their reports, which showed a handsome balance in the treasury.

Four new names were presented for membership and two candidates were initiated, President John Flynn conferring the degrees in impressive manner. It is expected that each member will present the name of some friends at the next meeting, which should be a large one.

Several interesting discussions took place, and were participated in by Messrs. Robert Hagan, Joe Nevin, John Ryan, Thomas Cleary, John Flynn, Thomas Walsh, Thomas Claire, Denny Heffernan and John Swift. The remarks of the latter on American citizenship and the duties of Irish-Americans were well received. All were glad to learn that James O'Connor and Steve McElliot had recovered from their illness.

RECENT DEATHS.

The news of the sudden death of Miss Blanche Lawler, daughter of the late Daniel and Mary Lawler, came as a great shock to the many friends of that estimable young woman. Miss Lawler was stricken while on the street and died a few minutes after being taken to St. Joseph's Infirmary, where everything possible was done for her. Her popularity was attested by the large attendance at the funeral, which took place Friday morning from St. Charles' church.

Miss Constance Richter, an estimable young lady of the West End, died at the family residence, 2504 Portland avenue, last Wednesday afternoon. She suffered from pneumonia and was ill only a few days. Miss Richter was the organist at St. Cecilia's church and had quite a reputation as a musician. She is survived by her mother, Mrs. Rosa Richter, Edward G. and John M. Richter, her brothers, and by Miss Agnes A. Richter, her sister. The funeral took place from St. Cecilia's church at 10 o'clock Friday morning. The interment was in St. Louis cemetery. The bereaved family have the deep sympathy of the entire community over their great affliction.

Mrs. Patrick Murphy, an estimable Catholic lady, died at her home, 222 East St. Catherine street, at 10 o'clock last Saturday night. She had been ill of the ailments attendant upon old age for some time and her death was not unexpected. The remains were taken to Shelbyville for interment. Mrs. Murphy was born in the County Kerry, Ireland, over sixty years ago, but had been in America more than half a century. During thirty-five years of this time she lived at Shelbyville, and in the last three years in Louisville, where she was well known and highly respected. She leaves the following children: Mrs. M. J. McCloskey, Mrs. Charles P. Lighthy, Miss Lizzy Murphy, James Murphy, of Shelbyville, and Michael and Daniel Murphy. The funeral ceremonies at Shelbyville were conducted by the Rev. Father Thomas A. Yorke, of this city, who took the place of Rev. Father Fitzgerald, who is absent in New York City.
